Why we opened the door to Private sectors?

- Making sure of financial structure of JOCW
 - Introduction of Annual fee from 2008
 - Basic dues and a special support program
- OCW should be the content infrastructure for life-long learning in 21st century
- University expects more students from over-18 years old, especially business persons from financial point of view

JOCW Web site

The screenshot shows the JOCW website interface. On the left side, there are two search boxes: 'Google JOCW検索' and 'JOCW横断検索'. An arrow labeled 'Course search 1' points to the first search box, and an arrow labeled 'Course search 2' points to the second search box. The main content area includes a header with '日本オープンコースウェア・コンソーシアム', a navigation menu, a main text block about OCW, a list of sponsors (including asahi.com, UCHIDA, and docomo), and a 'Topics' section with a list of recent events.

Migration of OCW to e-Learning

New value creation from cross-universities usage

Challenges, issues

- Globalization
 - Most of lectures are only in Japanese and not translated to other languages
 - How to make “ think globally, act locally”
- IP related things
 - Creative Commons is fine but...
 - Time consuming task for clearing
- Sustainability
 - No national grant or foundation support
- Awareness
 - Still not so high even in university internally

Conclusion

- Sharing more experiences among many institutions in various countries is very important to accelerate and spread out OCW.
 - Thank you for your attention !
